DMA-1624-X and DMA-1625-X

Gentlemen:

We have carefully reviewed your applications for 2 tungsten exploration projects costing $29,605 on the Shooting Star claims (DMA-1625-X) and $30,555 on the Comstock claims (DMA-1624-X), Miller Mountain district, near Rosalt, Esmeralda County, Nevada.

You have not presented a clear picture of the exploration proposed, with maps, and you have not stated the amount and location of proposed drilling. The list of estimated costs includes about $10,000 to provide housing and sustenance for 7 men over a period of 2 months, on the Shooting Star project, which is excessive. The preliminary sampling that you have done is not sufficient to justify a full-scale exploration enterprise.

We regret that we are unable to approve the projects as proposed.

Very truly yours,

Tom Lyon

Memorandum

From: Tungsten Branch

Subject: Application for exploration by
The Ryte Company

In reply please refer to:
DMA 1624-X -- Tungsten

The Ryte Co. applied for an exploration project to cost $30,555, the work to be done on the 6 Comstock Claims, 8½ miles easterly from Basalt, Esmeralda County, Nevada and 1½ miles from U. S. Highway 6.

The company has done no adequate preliminary sampling to demonstrate a good possibility of finding tungsten ore. They have not prepared a map to show the work planned, and have not given an intelligent discription of the proposed project. The costs given in answer to question 23, MF-103, are as follows:

(a)	4 miners @ $14 per day for 30 days	$ 1,680
(b)	1 supervisor at $20 per day for 30 days	600
(c)	No repairs necessary to existing structures
(d)	Trailer quarter and 2 mile road construction	9,000
(e)	Lamps, bits, steel, heavy duty tools,	2,500
(f)	Core drilling equipment and operators	8,500
(g)	Rental of applicant's equipment
	T D 9 at $125 per day
	Compressor and jacks at $60 per day	2,775
(h)	Welding equipment	3,000
(i)	Living facilities, water, groceries, etc.	2,500
		$ 30,555

Items (d) and (i) totalling $11,500, more than one third of the project, cover only food and housing for 30 days, along with some road construction, the major part of which is probably covered by bulldozer rental (item g).

The application was denied for these reasons.
