

Figure 5. Sidescan-sonar image showing filled paleochannels exposed on the seafloor. These paleochannels are cut into the Pleistocene sedimentary deposit and filled with an early Holocene transgressional sequence. High backscatter is represented by light tones, low backscatter is represented by dark tones within the image. See Figure 2b for location.