

Figure 2.4d. Photograph of the sea floor on a boulder ridge to the east of Stellwagen Bank at a water depth of about 78 m (see Figure 2.2b for location).

Figure 2.4e. Photograph of the sea floor in Stellwagen Basin at a water depth of about 89 m, an area of fine-grained sediments (see Figure 2.2b for location).

Figure 2.4f. Photograph of the sea floor on the western side of Massachusetts Bay at a water depth of about 40 m (see Figure 2.2b for location). The sea floor at this location is covered with boulders and cobbles.

