[Bulletin No. 118.]

The publications of the United States Geological Survey are issued in accordance with the statute approved March 3, 1879, which declares that—

"The publications of the Geological Survey shall consist of the annual report of operations, geological and economic maps illustrating the resources and classification of the lands, and reports upon general and economic geology and paleontology. The annual report of operations of the Geological Survey shall accompany the annual report of the Secretary of the Interior. All special memoirs and reports of said Survey shall be issued in uniform quarto series if deemed necessary by the Director, but otherwise in ordinary octavos. Three thousand copies of each shall be published for scientific exchanges and for sale at the price of publication; and all literary and cartographic materials received in exchange shall be the property of the United States and form a part of the library of the organization; and the money resulting from the sale of such publications shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States."

On July 7, 1882, the following joint resolution, referring to all Government publications, was passed by Congress:

"That whenever any document or report shall be ordered printed by Congress, there shall be printed, in addition to the number in each case stated, the 'usual number' (734) of copies for binding and distribution among those entitled to receive them."

Except in those cases in which an extra number of any publication has been supplied to the Survey by special resolution of Congress or has been ordered by the Secretary of the Interior, this office has no copies for gratuitous distribution.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
U. S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY, DIVISION OF GEOGRAPHY,
Washington, D. C., May 20, 1894.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a geographic dictionary of New Jersey.

Very respectfully,

HENRY GANNETT,
Chief Topographer.

Hon. J. W. POWELL,
Director, U. S. Geological Survey.

A GEOGRAPHIC DICTIONARY OF NEW JERSEY.

BY HENRY GANNETT.

The Geographic Dictionary of New Jersey, which constitutes this bulletin, is designed to aid in finding any geographic feature upon the atlas sheets of that State published by the U. S. Geological Survey. It contains all the names given upon those sheets, and no other. Under each name is a brief statement showing the feature it designates and its location, and opposite to it is the name of the atlas sheet, or sheets, upon which it is to be found.

The atlas sheets upon which the State is represented are the result of a survey made in part by the State of New Jersey and in part by the U. S. Geological Survey. The plan of the work, the scale, the contour intervals, the number and variety of the features represented and their mode of representation, and the methods of survey, were designed by the geological survey of New Jersey. About half the area of the State, including the northern part, had been surveyed by that organization when the work was taken up by the U. S. Geological Survey, which carried it forward to completion. Although the southern part of the State was surveyed at the expense of the U. S. Geological Survey, the methods and, in the main, the personnel which had been employed by the State, remained unchanged.

The scale upon which the sheets are published is 1:62500; that is, a distance of 62,500 inches upon the ground, or very nearly 1 mile, is represented by 1 inch upon the map. Relief, or the variation of elevation, is represented by contour lines or lines of equal elevation above mean sea level, these contour lines being at vertical intervals of 10 feet in the low and level portions of the State and 20 feet in the more broken portions. Upon the map all water features, that is, lakes, ponds, rivers, etc., are represented in blue; the contour lines representing the relief, together with the figures showing the elevation, are printed in brown; and the lettering and all symbols representing the works of man are printed in black.

The area of the State is represented upon 49 sheets, each sheet, with one or two exceptions, comprising 15 minutes of latitude by 15 minutes of longitude. Each sheet, therefore, includes about 17 miles from north to south and about 13 miles from east to west. Of these sheets, 32 lie entirely within the State, the remaining 17 including adjacent portions of New York, Pennsylvania, and Delaware. The following is a list of the sheets, showing the names assigned to them and their limits in latitude and longitude:

New Jersey is one of the original 13 States; it adopted the Constitution on December 18, 1787.

The boundary line between New Jersey and New York is theoretically an arc of a great circle running from the point of junction of Navesink River with Delaware River to a rock on the west side of Hudson River in latitude 41°. This line as run conforms closely to the statute. The boundary between New Jersey and Pennsylvania is the main channel of the Delaware River.

The total area of New Jersey is, excluding the waters of Delaware Bay, 7,815 square miles. Of this an area estimated at 290 square miles is water surface, leaving as the land surface of the State 7,525 square miles. Of the land surface, 43 per cent is in forests and 6 per cent in tide marsh, leaving a trifle over one-half as cleared land.
