The map shows the San Rafael District, Emery County, Utah, highlighting uranium deposits and areas underlain by ore-bearing unit. The map includes various shaded areas indicating different geological features and mining locations. The key to the map includes symbols for different types of deposits and mining areas.