

Figure 19. Photograph of a Honjo time-series sediment trap. These traps are deployed at western Massachusetts Bay long-term Sites A and B. The yellow funnel (0.8 m diameter) directs suspended material into one of 13 plastic jars (500 ml capacity), which are sequentially moved under the funnel for a 9-day interval during a typical 4-month deployment.