

Figure 13C. Photograph of a small tripod frame used to deploy instrumentation at Site B being deployed from the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter White Heath. An Acoustic Doppler Current Profiler (ADCP) and tube sediment trap are attached to the tripod. The floats on the top of the frame are released by an acoustic release and pull a recovery line to the surface.