

Figure 17. Photograph of a MicroCAT (to measure temperature and salinity) mounted on the top of a 41" steel float. This mounting is used at the Site A to measure temperature and salinity within about 5 m of the sea surface. The inset shows a close-up of the MicroCAT installed in a protective bracket.