

Figure 23B. A portion of the Vector-Measuring Current Meter (VMCM) current meter (top of picture) and the transmissometer (mooring 3481) deployed 5 m below the surface from July to October 1990. Both instruments were heavily fouled despite the antifouling paint.