

Figure 6C. The Large Navigational Buoy in March 1990 showing the near-surface Vector-Measuring Current Meter (VMCM) being hung from the side of the buoy. The VMCM was supported on $\frac{3}{4}$ " chain. A 100-pound lead weight was hung below the VMCM to provide tension across the instrument.