

A.

B.

Photo courtesy of Cape Cod National Seashore

Figure 8. The inland red maple (A) and white cedar (B) swamps throughout Lower Cape Cod depend upon the natural fluctuations in ground-water levels to support their distinct biotic communities.