National Mapping Program

US GeoData

Department of the Interior
U.S. Geological Survey

Computer-Generated View of Mount McKinley

This oblique view of Mount McKinley, Alaska, was produced by merging a digital elevation model with the corresponding Landsat satellite-acquired digital data. It simulates the view from a point 15,000 feet above the Tokositna River. (Produced by the EROS Data Center, U.S. Geological Survey.)