In this digital edition, the geologic data have now been captured digitally and are presented here along with images of the printed map sheet and component parts as PDF files.

In the original printed publication, a number of errors were found. These errors remain as is, uncorrected, in the digital edition of the printed matter, the textonly.doc file, and on the scans of the map and its component parts. The digital edition is intended to be a digital replica of the original report and as such, any perceived errors carried over in the digital edition are a representation of the data as presented in the original report.

The errors that were noted are as follows:
