

Detail of the Anchorage C-6 Quadrangle showing the location of the Moose Creek field site. This location samples boulders from a variety of source formations on the banks of Moose Creek near where it enters the Matanuska River, just off of the Glenn Highway, northeast of Palmer.