

100 feet

Fig. 45- The east side of the Water Gap of Chilhowee Mountain, along the Little River, shows colluvium (boulder field and talus) of Nebo Quartzite unconformably above shale. The largest boulder (see arrow at left of center) is the size of a car (elevation = 1100 ft, Kinzel Springs quadrangle).