

Horizontal Gradient Magnitude of Continued RTP Data

Color shaded-relief image of horizontal gradient magnitude of continued, reduced-to-pole magnetic data. Prominent ridges on this map locate steep gradients, which are commonly associated with lithologic contacts or faults. Illumination is from the west. Color intervals follow a histogram-equalization stretch.