Figure 13. Map showing water-level changes in the Jasper aquifer, greater Houston area, Texas, 2000–2005.

Note: The change map was made by contouring the differences between the 2005 water levels (Cogdill, 2001) and the 2005 water levels measured at the same wells. Data points (wells at which water-level measurements were made) are shown on the respective water-level-altitude maps.