

Figure 10.4. Solid phase metal profiles from the Hingham Bay site. Metal concentrations at ~15cm are similar to surface concentrations measured at the same site in 1978 (Bothner and others, 1998). Present concentrations in surface sediments are much lower, but remain high enough to risk negative impacts.