

Figure 1.8. Sediment samples were collected with a hydraulically damped gravity corer, which collects sediment cores (10.7 cm internal diameter and up to 50 cm long) with minimal disturbance of material at the water-sediment interface (Bothner and others, 1997).