

Table with 100 columns and 1000 rows. Each row contains a numerical value followed by a long list of numbers. The first column contains values like 5888924, 5888925, etc. The subsequent columns contain various integers ranging from 10000 to 900000000000. The data appears to be a list of coordinates or identifiers for various locations or objects.

