

Universal Transverse Mercator projection, Zone 15

Figure 7. Echo-sounder, target-point, and land-survey data collected at Sugar Creek Lake near Moberly, Missouri, with shoreline digitized from aerial photography, used to create the bathymetric surface model using a transect interval of approximately 50 feet.