UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

TRACE ELEMENTS INVESTIGATIONS
REPORT 706

EXPLANATION OF MAP SYMBOLS

- Crestal line of anticline, dome, or upwarp, showing direction of plunge
- Troughal line of syncline or basin
- Monoclinal fold
- Normal fault with downthrown side indicated
- Igneous stocks, plugs, laccolith centers
- 1800 — Isopachous line indicating thickness of rocks between top of highest salt bed and base of lowest salt bed of the Paradox member of the Hermosa formation. Interval 500 feet; 1000 feet where congested.
- Equity #1 Govt. — Drilled well

Structural features compiled mainly from Kelley, 1955, Fig. 2.

Elmer H. Baltz, 1957

SCALE 10 0 10 20 Miles

PLEASE REPLACE IN POCKET
IN BACK OF BOUND VOLUME

U.S. GEOLOGICAL SURVEY
DENVER
SEP 23 1982
LIBRARY
GEOLOGIC DIVISION

Figure 3.—Isopachous map showing thickness of salt-bearing rocks of the Paradox member of the Hermosa formation and also the structural features of parts of Utah and Colorado.