

EXPLANATION

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| ALLUVIAL-FAN, FLOOD-PLAIN, AND LAKE-BOTTOM SOILS <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Stony, gravelly, and very sandy soils containing subsoils that are permeable to moderately permeable Loamy sand, loam, and clay loam soils containing subsoils that are permeable to moderately permeable Loamy sand, loam, and clay loam soils containing compact subsoils that restrict seepage Basin and basin-rim soils containing compact subsoils that are relatively impermeable | OLD ALLUVIAL-FAN AND UPLANDS SOILS <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Loamy sand, loam, and clay loam soils containing compact subsoils that are moderately permeable Loamy sand, loam, and clay loam soils containing claypans or incipient claypans that restrict seepage |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

HILLS

- Consolidated and semiconsolidated rocks bordering the valley

Boundary of soils of relative permeability
Dashed where approximately located

Boundary of Buena Vista Lake and Kern Lake beds

MAP SHOWING RELATIVE PERMEABILITIES OF SOILS IN THE EDISON-MARICOPA AREA, CALIFORNIA

